MY GOLDEN SPURS NOW BRING TO ME
AND BRING TO ME MY RICHEST MAIL,
"FOR TOMORROW I GO OVER LAND AND SEA
IN SEARCH OF THE HOLY GRAIL,"

FORWARD

Time has decreed that clearest visions must fade, memories grow dim, bright pictures become obliterated. If the picture and prose of these pages serve as a reminder of those things then the effort and time spent in compiling the history of the Nineteen Thirty School Year at Susquehanna University will be well rewarded.

"THE VOICE OF THE SENECHAL FLARED LIKE A TORCH
AS HE SHOUTED THE WANDERER AWAY FROM THE PORCH"

Susquehanna University

SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY had its beginning as Missionary Institute, the corner-stone of which was laid on September 1, 1858. The founder was the Reverend Dr. Benjamin Kurtz, an eminent divine of the Lutheran Church of his day. The school was established to supply the need for more ministers. From this original motive, it has broadened its scope to include the preparation of young men and young women for all honorable vocations in life, never ceasing to emphasize the necessity of the Christian ethic in all true education.

In 1894 its corporate name was changed to Susquehanna University. Born in faith, organized and promoted through prayer, it has grown steadily to its present strength.

Since then Susquehanna University has made remarkable progress. In 1858 Selinsgrove Hall was the only building on the campus, and now the University includes many fine buildings: Selinsgrove Hall, Hassinger Hall, Gustavus Adolphus, Seibert Hall, the Alumni Gymnasium, the University Laundry, a modern steam heating plant, the Conservatory of Music, Charles Steele Science Hall, Faculty Homes, and a new library.

Susquehanna University is beautifully situated on an elevation, just outside the borough limits of Selinsgrove, about one-half mile from the west bank of the Susquehanna River. Overlooking one of the most scenic sections of the historical valley, the site itself is of remarkable beauty, being only a few miles below the confluence of the North and West branches of the Susquehanna River. It commands an outlook of more than ten miles of the great valley, so rich in Indian legend, and the wooded hills of Northumberland County, just beyond the river.

Selinsgrove is quite accessible from every section of Pennsylvania. An electric railway connects with Sunbury, five miles away, which is an important railroad center of Pennsylvania. It is within a radius of fifty miles from Harrisburg, Lewistown, Williamsport, and the larger towns of the anthracite coal regions.

With these descriptive details concerning the life, development, and growth of Susquehanna University one can more fully understand and appreciate her present existence.

Alma Mater

The story we would tell you, friends,
 Would cover many a book;
The subject matter of the same
 Is found in every nook,
Of old S. U.'s broad campus,
 The common battle-ground
Whose trees might whisper secrets grave,
 Amusing and profound.

CHORUS

Of Susquehanna now we sing,
Let Susquehanna's praises ring,
Loyal to her by night and by noon,
We'll raise the Orange and Maroon,
Loyal to her by night and by noon,
We'll raise the Orange and Maroon.

How dear to one and all the name
 Their Alma Mater bears,
When they have left its classic halls,
 To shoulder worldly cares,
Of winning maids and noble lords
 Of dear old college days,
Come join in recollections fond,
 And tell us of your ways.

In classroom and on gridiron, friends,
 S. U. will stand the test;
Defeat to her a word unknown,
 Her motto, "Do your best,"
With vim, then let us give the yell,
 Display her banner bright,
That all may know of old S. U.
 She stands for God and Right.

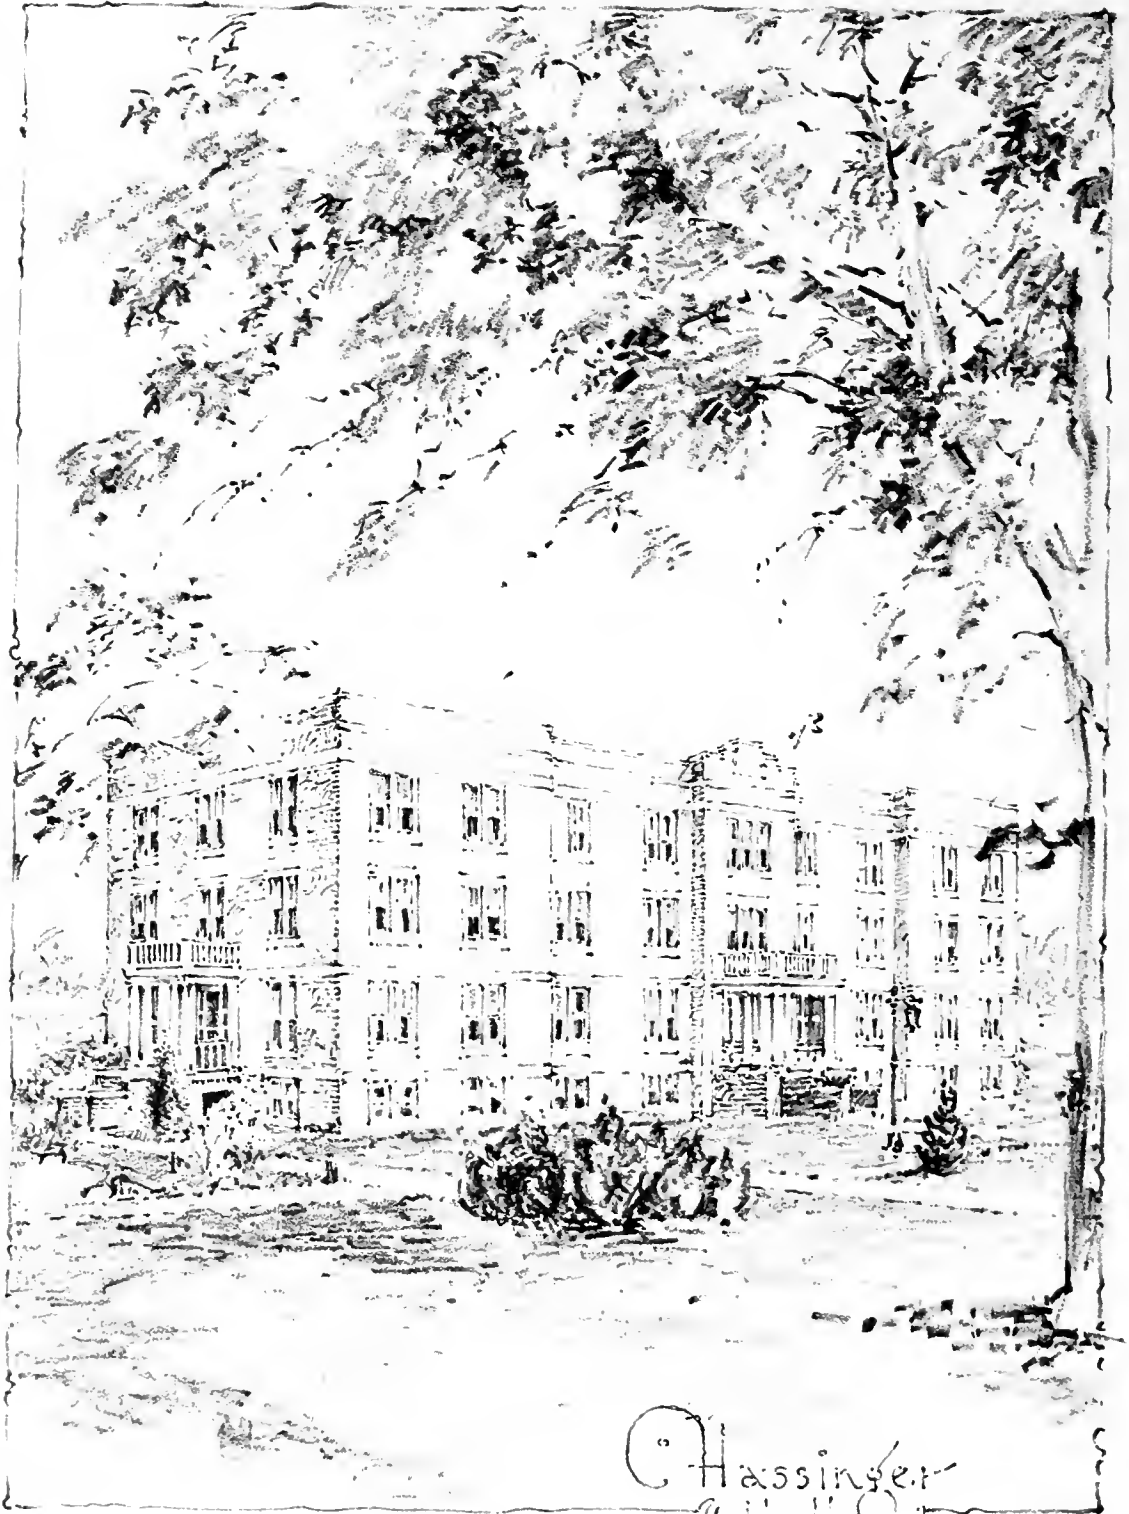

E. EDWIN SHELDON.

SENIORS

The Class of '31

S. WALTER FOULKROD	President
WILBUR E. BERGER	Vice-President
CORINDA M. SELL	Secretary
LENA O. BAIRD	Treasurer
MARY A. HUTCHINGS	Historian

THE four most fruitful years of our lives are almost over, fellow classmates, and we can truthfully say that our stay at S. U. has not been without merit for us and for Susquehanna.

As is the wont of Seniors, we are apt to indulge in reminiscences. Looking backward over what is well accomplished seems so very much easier to do than to look ahead to the battle with the world for which we have been armed.

Our entrance was no more auspicious than other entrances to the mere outsider, but to us it was the moment for which we had hitherto lived. We were College Students! We soon forgot any prepossessing manners, though, under the strict tutelage of the Sophomores, and thereby hangs a tale!

Our "Get-Away" was very successful. We also proudly claimed the honor of winning the tug-of-war and the Freshman-Sophomore Football game. Our crowning laurel was the Interclass Baseball Championship.

When our time of dictatorship arrived, our Sophomore year, we were none too slow in expending our own hard-earned discipline on the lowly Freshmen. In this eventful year, we won the Interclass Soccer trophy and our co-eds acquired the Hockey award. Our members were active on the gridiron, the track and the baseball diamond, but the debating and musical societies also numbered our members.

Our social year, the well-known Junior year, was outstanding. We "majored and minored" in several worthwhile things. Our president, Walter Foulkrod, was made president of the newly organized Tau Kappa Alpha Debating Fraternity. Our men were prominent on many of our Varsity Teams, we had the captaincy of the football team, a unique achievement for a Junior Class. In interclass sports we were not absent. The girls again won the Hockey trophy and took the Soccer award for good measure. The highlights of our career this year were the Junior Prom, where our track team helped make things even more splendid by appearing to announce that our team, captained by a Junior, had won the C. P. T. C. meet. The other event was the Lanthorn, our annual Junior production, which was a fine testimonial of our class worth.

We have tried in every way known to us, to make ourselves worthy of Susquehanna and all she stands for, and when the time comes, we will sing our Alma Mater softly and stand with bowed heads until the last faint notes fade—before we pass on with a feeling that our school will not forget us.

JUNORS

The Class of '32

REED SPEER*President*
LEE FAIRCHILD*Vice-President*
EDNA WILLIAMSON*Secretary*
WAYNE NEISWENTER*Treasurer*

JUST imagine! Three years have elapsed since the class of '32 made their appearance on old S. U.'s campus. They came one hundred and thirty-five strong and although the number has dwindled down to eighty, the class is still doing big things for Susquehanna.

As Freshmen the class of '32 behaved as Freshmen will, but in a remarkably short time they acclimated themselves to college life. They began by staging a never-to-be-forgotten "Get-Away," with much opposition from Sophomores, the Sunbury-Schinsgrove Trolley Company, and the blue clad officers of the law.

In our Freshman year we defeated the Sophomores in the annual gridiron battle on Homecoming Day by a score of 2-0. We were well represented in all sports, and although we were only yearlings we boasted of several letter man on the football, basketball, and track teams.

Our Sophomore year we stood out prominently in all school activities. We easily defeated the Frosh in the football game on Alumni Day, 24-0. The fellows won the Inter-Class Soccer Match, and the girls came out second in the Girls' Hockey Tournament. The co-eds were also champions of the Inter-Class Basketball League.

Now we are truly upper-classmen. What dignity and sophistication we have attained! We have not lost any of our energy and ambition, but instead we are doing more every year and reaching out constantly for higher things. The boys easily won the basketball tournament. When it came time for the Indoor Track Meet the Juniors were right there, and took first place. The girls also won the Co-eds Inter-Class Basketball League.

But, athletics is not the only thing in which the class of '32 excels. We find that the Juniors have the highest average as a class in the school. It was during our Junior year that Susquehanna became an accredited college, and you may be sure that the Juniors did their part toward helping to attain this high aspiration.

The two high spots in our Junior year were the publication of the Lantern, and the sponsoring of a very successful Junior Prom.

After three years of experience the members of the class of '32 are prepared to take their place as Seniors, and to help lead Susquehanna to even greater fame.

ETTA MUMFORD, Class Historian.

MELVIN S. ADAMS
Millmont, Pa.

Education

Lewis Township High School; Spanish Club, (3); Class Soccer, (3); Y. M. C. A., (3); Teacher in Grammar Schools.

This is Melvin's first full year with us as he has been in attendance upon summer school since 1925. We certainly are glad that Melvin decided to join us this year as he been a welcome addition to the class of '32.

Melvin spends a great deal of his time in study, but finds sufficient time to devote to athletics. Melvin was an important figure on the Junior Class soccer team, but due to injuries was forced out early in the year. This spring Melvin is making a bid for a berth on the varsity tennis team and is showing fine form.

Melvin hopes to take a course in public school music after graduation from the regular college course. With his musical ability and his pleasing personality we are sure that Melvin will be successful and the best wishes of the Class go with him.

Although they tell us that Bill is seen at Duquesne occasionally he really comes from Crafton. We all know Bill, it can't be helped, with his dignity and congeniality. Yet his temper has taught some a lesson, especially on the gridiron. Bill is a fighter and every tackle who has opposed him can vouch for that. Bill has played varsity football for two years. Yes, and he can play tennis and basketball. But we can't forget his violin, for if you have not danced to the strains of his fiddle you have missed something.

Bill is thinking about medicine and a man with a fight like his will certainly make the grade.

"A musical lad with a versatile mind."

"Dot" entered our class at the beginning of this year and proud we are of our acquisition, but we can't help feeling sorry she was not always a member of the class.

Dorothy is a brilliant student and we find her among the scholastic leaders of her class. She is capable and industrious and one upon whom responsibility can be laid. Anyone in "Dot's" classes knows of her good recitations and we remember her name among the list of honor students.

We understand that Dorothy is planning to teach, but seriously, we wonder—because we happen to know that her little "Chevie" makes quite a few trips to a nearby small town, and we've noticed that "Dot" takes a particular interest in our alumni.

The name of Auchmuty was already famous when Jack arrived at old S. U., but Jack has added to its fame and glory.

Jack's qualities of leadership were evident from the start when as first President of our class he acted as our leader way back in those hectic days of '28 and '29.

His ability to play football did not stay in the shadow long either. A varsity player when a Freshman he has continued to make his presence known and felt on the gridiron for the past three years. His talent and fighting spirit have won for him the admiration of the S. U. football enthusiasts.

Jack's aggressiveness and good humor will carve a place for him in life.

In Glenroy we have perhaps the smallest but not the least important member of our class. What he lacks in size he makes up for with effort and accomplishment. His work in the class room and in sports mark him as a man who is bound to make good and go far in the world.

On the track Glenroy has shown himself capable and ready for the long race of life. His endurance and steady determination have made him the envy of many.

This interest in Athletics has by no means superseded his studies, for in the class room Bishop has proved himself a student more than the average.

"Kate" is one of the conservatory students, haven't you heard her light, musical laugh? Although never neglecting her work she is as care free and as happy-go-lucky as the day is long. To her, college presents but one problem. Why must Miss Nesbit's classes start on time? When "Kate" succeeds in solving this problem we predict that she will devote her time to an extensive study of bridge. "Kate" must have been the very inspiration for the first person who said, "it's a woman's privilege to change her mind." But honestly "Kate" is a cheerful companion, a real friend, and a good student. Of course we wish you the very best of everything "Kate."

"A merry heart and a smiling face will win for you friends and friendship's good grace."

We are glad this charming girl left school and returned to become a member of our class. But we have yet one regret—that she leaves the campus every day when classes are over.

Athletically, Thelma ranks with the best S. U. has to offer. At track meets she is a most consistent winner and no Junior team is complete without her. Rarely does this maiden miss a dance as few do who dance so well.

"Crebs" aims to teach Latin but we remember how perfectly she played the part of Di Deacon in "Miss Lulu Bett" and draw our own conclusions.

"Sonny" comes to us from the well-known city of Tamaqua. He has been a loyal member of the class and shown an interest in all class activities. Wherever possible he lends a helping hand.

During his Freshman year Herman went out for football and made a position on the Junior Varsity. This wasn't good enough for "Sonny" so the following year found him capably filling a guard position on the Varsity squad.

This year we find "Sonny" taking it easy as far as anything strenuous is concerned—a serious operation during the summer left him weak and following the advice of the doctors "Sonny" is compelled to take things rather easily.

As a student "Sonny" does more than hold his own. It is not his policy to attend classes unprepared for he always knows his work and knows it well.

As Business Manager of the Glee Club he planned and managed one of the best seasons that the Club has ever had. In this position his zeal earned for him the descriptive nickname "How Much."

In debating "Larry" was also a star and represented Susquehanna during very successful seasons. His work in this field enabled him to be among the first members of the local chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha.

In this "petite" miss, we have a combination of bright student and good athlete. "Finky's" closest companions are books, chiefly those printed in some foreign language; and if you can't find her poring over a book, you are almost certain to find her some place in a gym suit. She has made herself famous athletically by her brilliant playing at wing position in hockey and soccer, her long distance baseball batting and those speedy dashes around the track.

But with all her work, "Finky" still finds time for fun and never fails anyone searching for diversion, especially if it be bridge.

"Ted" has done his most outstanding work in the field of sports. His hobby and consequently his chief interest is baseball. Shortstop is his position. An early injury received at the first of the season prevented him from doing his best last year.

When the class of '32 assembled, in the fore we found this curly-haired Pennsylvania Dutch girl looking for a good time but also for a heavy math schedule. "Mart" has not ceased looking for the good time and is still "eating up" math. However, she not only excels in that classroom but is found prepared in every other. If we remember correctly "Andy" was one of the first Freshmen to reach Susquehanna's campus and he has continued to be among the leaders of the class from the first. Whenever he has a thing to do for the class or for the school he always gives his best.

"Andy" is particularly good as a student of all subjects, but his strong point seems to be mathematics. We don't predict that he is going to displace Einstein, but we are going to watch him go, and some of the mathematicians had better keep the throttle open.

Here's a tip, don't get into any arguments with "Andy."

You all know that Harriett comes to us from south of the Mason and Dixon. It is impossible to miss noticing those sparkling eyes and that dark hair.

Harriett's chosen profession is in the field of business and many times she is found working over her accounts. But work isn't her only hobby. We find her just as efficient on the hockey field or basketball floor.

Her cheerful disposition and understanding friendship make her one of the most popular girls of Susquehanna. We trust that her whole life will be as successful as the years she spent at College.

"Lew" began his education at Lock Haven State Teachers' College, but for some unknown reason (unknown to all, but a few), "Lew" came to Susquehanna. He seems quite enthusiastic about the conservatory of music and although he doesn't take actual work there, his spare time is generally directed toward that place even though Glee Club practice is held but twice a week. Yes, "Lew" is noted for that clear voice of his.

Few have the opportunity to know "Lew" well, but those that do can count him a real friend. The Class of '32 wishes you the best of success in your coming years.

"Lu" is the short, sandy-haired member of our class. She just couldn't live without basketball and a certain amount of hockey. She proves herself a good captain of either.

Leave it to "Lu" to plan things. Whether it be a hike, a party, a feed or whatever, Lucille can do it.

Business is Lucille's profession. Whose typewriter do we hear? It must be "Lu's."

"Lu's" genial disposition has won for her many friends on S. U.'s campus. Then too she is always ready to help where help is needed. And have you ever heard her laugh or shall we call it giggle? It's contagious.

As a singer, Anna wins the applause as well as the hearts of everyone. Her voice seems to fit the charming bit of femininity that she is.

Anna is a good student and never neglects her work, although she remains a good sport, always ready for fun. She is the highest type of a girl and the truest kind of a friend. Wish her success? Why she can't escape it!

You often hear of people who lead a four fold life, but you seldom find them. However, we have one who does that very thing—by name of Janet. Social—well it wouldn't be a dance, a tea, or a reception without Janet. Physical—have you ever watched a hockey game or a soccer game? If you have you saw Janet there. Intellectual—she's a real student and if you are in any of her classes you will realize this. Religious—she has varied interests in this field. For example, the Y. W. Cabinet and also ministers to be or rather a minister to be.

Education

This young lady with snappy brown eyes commutes from Middleburg and we regret that she has not chosen to live in the dormitory. She crowds her brief stays on the campus with study and recreation.

Fay was an active participant in girls' athletics and the Junior class teams have felt a loss since ill health forced her to abandon sports.

Fay is a good French student and conversationalist. She plans to represent Susquehanna on the faculty of a high school and we are sure that she will be an able representative.

Here we have a lad from DuBois, whom we are lucky to have with us, for more reasons than one. After being out of school for five years Frank found someone in Illinois of whom he thought enough to be induced to return to school. Re-entering high school Frank finished his course in record time and then came to Susquehanna. Athletics are his line, for in football he plays a whale of a game at fullback, while at baseball he bats like "Babe" Ruth himself. Just last summer Frank wasn't expected to live, but he is again with us, and although Frank was unable to add his bit to football he is showing real form in both track and baseball.

As a musician Peg is excelled by none. She has delighted many an audience by her skillful piano playing. Peg too has a beautiful voice which she has used to good advantage by taking the leading role in several operettas. Her ability in dramatics has also won for her great favor among the students.

"Forrey" came down from Williamsport to enroll with the class of '32 at Susquehanna. He is a quiet, studious young man always minding his own business and never getting into trouble. There are no ups and downs to his life. Every thing moves along at the same steady pace day after day. He takes things as deserved or earned and makes no comments either way.

His chief extra curricular interest is the Glee Club. He became a member of the club and presided over the sound effects. This year his bass voice has again given him a place and in addition the office of assistant business manager of the club.

"Forrey's" ambition is to be a doctor, so naturally most of his time is spent in the science department. A man of his even temperament should make a fine physician.

Let me introduce you to our very fair classmate. Can you imagine one so fair and sweet coming from the coal regions? They say that "looks are deceiving" and this is our living proof.

Has there ever been a dance that "Our Et" was not present? There are not enough dances on the campus, so she needs must pay her respects at State. As for making friends and having a wide circle of them, she does both. Does she limit her acquaintance to girls—we'll let you decide that. And let one who knows tell you this—"listen boys, and you shall hear, of one who can cook 'n sew 'n cheer."

Blond, curly hair, a pleasant smile, a cheery word, a gentle man through and through—that is our "Bud." We have never been able to keep him with us, for each day "Bud" takes the street car and goes back to Sunbury. Up to the present time we have not found an extra curricular reason. Girls—why certainly "Bud" likes the weaker sex, but they can't capture him.

He need not have fear of anyone or anything, for if he can't handle himself he can run and if you don't believe it just watch him at any track meet. And scholastic ability—well, it is hard to find "Bud" unprepared in his classes. Math is one of his favorites.

"Freddy" comes from the city of Pittsburgh and certainly typifies the "home town" for he is a man of action. He is always in a hurry but then he is always going somewhere.

We find that "Fred" wasn't content with walking so he went out for track. He was good enough to represent S. V. at the Penn Relays and ended the season with a letter as the reward for his efforts.

Of the time left from activities "Freddy" devotes part to singing in the Glee Club, finds time for class sports and still maintains a fine average in his studies.

Can Leonard sing? Ask any member of the Glee Club. This year he is secretary of the club and is kept busy guarding the archives of the organization.

It is an ill wind that doesn't blow someone some good. This particular wind was hard on "Sprouty," but it set him down right in the Class of '32.

"Sprouty's" big interest is football, that has been evident from the first. All went well during the Freshman year, but in the Sophomore year an injury not only took "Russ" off the team, but took him out of school as well. That is where the wind comes in and that is how '32 got "Sprouty." This year "Sprouty" walked all over his jinx and earned his letter.

"Sprout" is also an executive of ability, for he is President of the Intermural Board. In this position he is doing a fine piece of work.

Stahlman came to Susquehanna from Williamsport High School. He decided to take a scientific course and since he has been here he has proven himself very capable of carrying on with the best of our students in this field. He has shown himself to be quite a lover of nature. Many times during the year he will pull on his old hiking clothes and go and delve into the secrets of Mother Nature, when the rest of us are taking only what we can find in books.

For some reason or other, the fair sex has failed to very greatly impress Bill, but we predict that some of these days he is going to fall hard.

"Walt" hails from the far famed county called Somerset, and just as the county is proud of its courthouse, so, Susquehanna is proud of her Walter. Strandquest possesses all the qualities one desires in a real friend and they are sportsmanship, common sense and humor.

Naturally his greatest interest centers about the functions of the conservatory where he is found a willing and capable participant.

Socially, Walter is right on the spot, and his gentle tinkling of the ivories has caused many a feminine heart to sigh in admiration.

Music teaching is his chosen profession and with him goes our best wishes.

"Lolly," as everyone calls him, comes from Belleville. He upheld the reputation of Belleville as a baseball town by earning his Varsity "S" in baseball last year at an outfield position and we are sure that he will be better than ever this year.

He has shown an interest in all of our activities and has brought credit to the Class of '32 in every instance.

"Lolly" is interested in business and has proven his ability in this field by owning and operating an ice route during the summer vacations.

We know that with his ability and determination he will be a credit to any firm he may affiliate himself with and we all wish him the best of luck.

Harold is Montoursville's representative among the Juniors and we must say that he has been a fine ambassador from that fair city.

Sunday's chief interest as far as the Class of '32 is concerned has been in class athletics, but he has not shirked from the other activities. Basketball and soccer seem to appeal to him more than the other sports.

Most of Harold's time is spent over in Steele Science Hall, as he is enrolled in the Pre-Medical curriculum. In a few years we will see his shingle hanging out and be pleased to address him as Doctor.

Sunday is liked by everyone because of his ever-present smile and never failing good humor. We all wish him the best of luck.

Swartz doesn't make the campus his home, he spends the evenings at the State Colony, but we feel quite certain that it is not because he has to be retained. Instead, he helps to retain others.

His first two years Lewis helped the Class of '32 to win the Frosh-Sopho game. Then his third year he went out for the varsity. According to all reports it's anything but an easy job to keep him from breaking through the opposing line or to take him out of his own line.

We are expecting to hear from Lewis after he leaves Susquehanna. We want to say here, "Best of luck, Lewis."

"Say have you heard this one? It's the best joke I've heard yet." Whom have we heard say this? We don't have to think hard, we just know. It's "Libby." And what would our parties be without her? The answer is—dull.

She's one of those girls that a great many girls in the Dorm envy for she has that mathematical ability that so many lack.

"Libby's" motto seems to be "Laugh and the world laughs with you. Weep and you get a red nose." If you know "Libby" you know she puts this motto into practice.

If you could hear her play the piano, listen to some of her own compositions, if you could see her dance. It's no wonder we are glad "Is" came to Susquehanna even though she did arrive a little late. One remark of Sancho Panza's is quite appropriate to Isabelle in respect to her likes and dislikes. It is "God bless the man who invented sleep." "Is" is also known for her wit and extra cleverness; as a girl with the big, broad, congenial smile

As a literary critic, she earns great fame. In athletics, too, she possesses a name. Whenever plans are made for exciting times, "Betty" is just bubbling with ideas and always willing to share them too. Who does back stage for plays, scenery and davenport?

She is clever and wise, but there's mischief in her eyes. We know who is the instigator of all of our jokes. She never tells all she knows, indeed, "Betty" is a very good listener. She has some fine thoughts tucked away.

Her excellent ability of writing both poetry and prose will no doubt be of great aid to her when she enters her intended field of journalism.

"Fred" came to Susquehanna from Buffalo, the Queen City of the Lakes. The class of '32 has called upon him a number of times to serve on its committees and he has always served it well. Never has he disappointed us in anything for which he has been responsible. This capability and dependability have earned for him the confidence of his classmates who have so expressed themselves in electing him Art Editor of the Lanthorn.

These characteristics are also evident in his work as Secretary of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

"Fred's" chosen field is business and judging from his class work and his general knowledge of the subject we think that he has made a wise selection. Recognizing this knowledge and experience his fellow students have elected him President of the newly organized Business Club.

Art is one of the outstanding students of the class of '32, being one of the main cogs in the machine that placed our class first in scholastic rating.

Being Cupid's Mercury to Seibert Hall, Art is very popular with the co-eds. Art's popularity with the students, however, is due to his winning smile, fine personality and willingness to co-operate. Art is a real friend, and the best wishes of the class go with him in all his endeavors.

Scattered Thoughts of a Sophomore

OCTOBER—Back and very glad too. Wonder how I'll get along with my roommate. The future looked very good last year. Isn't there another way to arrange the furniture in this room? That new blotter is messed already, cakes from home make a lot of dirt. Hockey, fellows chasing a soccer ball. Alumni Day means much more this year than last. Opening football games. Assignments for collateral reading, must get after that early this year. Sorority dance to liven the week end. The first six weeks list managed to stay off it, something to write home about.

November—Twenty-eight more days until Thanksgiving. A bad habit that of counting days. Some of mother's food will taste good. Haven't heard from home since I wrote for money for my laboratory fees. Such green Freshmen. We won the class soccer championship. This grind is too much. That long week end at Thanksgiving is something to look forward to. After Thanksgiving I'm going to settle down and do my work faithfully. Wonder if I can go to the movies tonight, I can do my Bible in the vacant period tomorrow.

December—Three weeks until Christmas. I wish I could stop measuring time by vacations. I wish I had never joined the orchestra, I never seem to have time to go. I am going to do my term papers at home during Christmas, and come back and delve into those semester exams.

January—The library is so crowded, never can get a reserve book. Have to wait two hours to use a book once. They are reserved a week ahead. Much as I dislike book reports I wish some courses had long term papers instead of tests. New Year's resolutions made with qualms of conscience for I am afraid that they won't last. Glad to be back. Mother is so nice it hurts. Lets me sleep all morning and as for food there is nothing more I could wish.

February—Semester exams are over. I passed all of them although I did not study as hard as I meant to. There are few people here between semesters, wish I could have gone home. Pledging season is over, everybody seems happy over it. Why do people around here complain of not having enough to do, tonight Whitey announced Glee Club, French Club Meeting, Basketball Game, and Pre-legal Club Meeting.

March—Indoor Track Meet and we just ran short of measuring up to expectations, but we have second place. Debating season over and a lamentable lack of interest. Girls talking about working in resorts, Spring is coming, more talk about clothes. Everybody is getting on everybody else's nerves. How few roommates go places together. Listening to the radio, I wonder what would happen if the popular song writers should ever run out of inspirations. On second thought I don't believe they get any, they are all alike. We won the volleyball championship.

FRESHMEN

The Class of '34

HAROLD ROWE*President*
NELSON GRAY*Vice-President*
RUTH NELSON*Secretary*
WALTER IRVINE*Treasurer*

WHAT has happened? The answer is simple: eighty-seven shy looking Freshmen have come into Selinsgrove. We were the second class to take advantage of Freshman Week, the week in which we made acquaintances which later turned into friendships. The week was made up of lectures, intelligence tests, and, best of all, a get-together and several parties. The Wednesday evening following Freshman Week we attended the delightful Faculty Reception; it was on this night that we became acquainted with the members of the Faculty, and, in support of the old adage, "First impressions always count," we have found during our college year that this statement has not proved untrue.

The following week we were greeted by the usual warm reception by the Sophomores. Almost immediately a "Get-away" was planned. So one afternoon we went to Rolling Green Park, and, before all of our number had arrived the Sophs came and stopped the election. Then we came back determined to stage a real "Get-away," and we did. It was then that we got a street-car and the whole Freshman class went to Sunbury and we held our election, a traveling election as it were, on the car midway between Selinsgrove and Sunbury. The following officers were elected: President, Harold Rowe; Vice-President, Nelson Gray; Secretary, Ruth Nelson; Treasurer, Walter Irvine.

The first few weeks we were not able to breathe freely without hearing the dreadful word, "Frosh." But we could easily be picked out for our emblems of distinction or badges of honor, the orange and maroon armbands, dinks, and identification tags, were enough to put us in a regiment all our own.

Our first social appearance was at the Freshman dance which was held on Alumni Day. Strange to relate there was a shortage of girls. The boys were the hosts and the music was furnished by a victrola, recording popular tunes of yesteryear.

The Class of '34 has made a fine showing in athletics, taking a large part in Football and Soccer. They did exceptionally well on Home-Coming day by tying the Sophs. on the gridiron to a score of 0-0. There were a large number of our boys on the Basketball, Volleyball and Baseball teams, some having received letters. The girls were represented by good class teams which played well, and showed that they were good losers. Our class also supplied members to the Choral Club, Glee Club, Orchestra, and Band.

We have now climbed one rung in the ladder, and we are looking forward to higher achievements in scholarship, music, athletics, dramatics, and social life.

HEAD Coach William Ullery, a graduate of Pennsylvania State College where he was a football, basketball, and baseball star, has piloted the Crusaders for the past three seasons. He was handicapped considerably due to the fact that he lost many men by graduation, among them being Wall, Wormley, Delay, McDonald, Zak, and Rip Garman. Coach Ullery's main work during the last campaign was coaching the backfield. He developed a light and fast backfield around Moser and Scott, veterans of three years.

Susquehanna had a new addition to the coaching staff this past season in the personnel of L. B. Harper, former University of Pennsylvania football star. He tutored the line and from the showing that that department of the team made, proved him to be a very efficient coach. "Lou" was very well liked by the boys and on trips, he was one of them.

The 1930 eleven had a rather mediocre year gaining two victories, two ties, and four defeats. The team functioned remarkably well between the two twenty-yard markers, but once the Crusaders worked the ball into scoring position they seemed to lack the final punch.

Susquehanna's football squad was rather small, consisting of thirty-three men. Of this number, eleven were Freshmen, and seven were lettermen from the past year. On the line, Winters, Extrom, Garman and Auchmuty proved to be stone-walls to the opposition. These veteran forwards broke through the opponents' line time after time, either to throw the opposing ball-carriers for a loss or to open up a hole for our men to go through. Wittkop and Berger were also main-stays on the line and played a good game all season. Auchmuty has the distinction of being the only three-year Varsity football letterman remaining for the 1931 team. In the backfield, Moser, Scott, and Glenn were the remaining experienced men with the former two being the most outstanding. Moser was the greatest fullback to ever don the Orange and Maroon. He could pass, kick, or slice through the opponents' line at will. Whenever an extra yard or two was to be had, if Moser was called upon, you could consider it accomplished. He missed only one placement kick after touchdown all season. Scott started the year as quarterback and was later changed to half. Under his leadership, the Crusaders won their only two victories and tied another. He could pass, receive, and run the ends with uncanny ability. The longest run of the season for the Orange and Maroon was made by this diminutive quarterback. His ability to diagnose the proper play in a tight situation was also one of his dominating factors on the field. Glenn also played a consistent game in the backfield. He did most of the passing and the kicking for the team.

The managership of the 1930 team was capably filled by Herbert Schmidt and Nevin Dorsheimer. This was the first year that there was ever a co-managership in football. The managers had to take care of the business end of the football season. They should be commended upon the efficient manner in which they arranged trips, took care of equipment, and other duties.

Letters were awarded to the following: Managers, Herbert Schmidt and Nevin Dorsheimer, Captain Garman, Moser, Scott, Auchmuty, Winters, Wit-kop, Extrom, Rishel, Fisher, Wolfe, Barber, Adams, Hudkins, Spigelmeier, Gleen, Meyers, Speer and Sprout. Numerals: Foltz, Van Nuys, Hartman, Kramer and Rummell.

Wagner

Susquehanna inaugurated its 1930 gridiron season with a 27-7 victory over Wagner College on the Orange and Maroon field.

Moser scored 21 of the points for the Crusaders and was one of the outstanding players of the game. On the line, Auchmuty, Berger, Winters and Witkop stood out over the rest. It was in this game that Warren Wolfe, playing end, had his shoulder dislocated, which put him on the bench for the remainder of the season.

Perhaps the most disastrous player to Wagner was Scott, playing quarterback. Time and again his brilliant headwork, combined with unerring ability to decide the best thing to do at the right time gave the Orange and Maroon a decided advantage over the Wagner eleven. Not only this but Scotty made consistent gains around the ends.

Haverford

On Saturday, October 11, Susquehanna played Haverford at Haverford, and the game ended in a scoreless tie.

This game was a punting duel between the two elevens. The number of first downs was held to a minimum for both teams.

Moser, Scott, and Glenn played well in the backfield, while Auchmuty and Winter turned in the best results on the line for the Orange and Maroon.

Alfred

The Crusaders lost one of the toughest games during its gridiron history of the night of October 18, at Alfred, 7-0. This marked the first appearance of the Orange and Maroon under these conditions and they were greatly handicapped when compelled to play under floodlights.

Susquehanna outplayed their opponents in every department of the game. There surely must have been a jinx floating around when a team can outnumber their opposition, 27-3 in first downs and still be on the tail-end of the final score.

The lone tally was scored on the first play after the Alfred-men had possession of the oval. Captain Staiman skirted right end, led by good interference, and reached the final marker after a fifty-two yard run. He then kicked the extra point.

At no time after the first several minutes of the first quarter, when Alfred made all of her three first downs, did she menace the Little Crusaders' goal line. The Orange and Maroon forward wall was charging hard and broke through many times to smear plays before they hit the line of scrimmage.

The Little Crusaders were in scoring position time after time but seemed to lack that final punch. The breaks were against them when they tried passes to make the necessary yardage and failed. It may be said that the boys played the best football of the year and that they were not up against a better team, but for some unknown reason they failed to come through with the necessary touchdowns.

It was hard to pick out any outstanding player on the line, for it functioned better than it has any time during the season, but it must be said that Auchmuty played a great game at the guard position and it was he, by his fierce charging through the line that spilled many an Alfred play before it got under way.

In the backfield, Moser's brilliant line plunging was a feature, together with Glenn's kicking. Rishel, who played his first game for the Orange and Maroon, played a real game at half-back.

Ursinus

In playing the strongest eleven of the year, Susquehanna put up a great fight to hold Ursinus to a 21-0 score on the University field.

The little Crusaders put up an unexpectedly strong fight against the much tooted Ursinus forward wall. Although heavier in weight, the Bears failed repeatedly to force their way through the Orange and Maroon line during the entire game. Their only means of attack was either through the air or around the ends. It was during the second period that the Bears opened up with their aerial attack and with the aid of sweeping end runs, managed to cross the goal line twice before the half ended.

The third quarter found Ursinus scoring again with the same form of attack. Sterner finally dodged his way around left end from the forty-yard line to score the touchdown.

From that point on and throughout the last quarter, the Little Crusaders took up the offensive and continually threatened the Bears with a fine aerial attack, Moser's brilliant line-plunging, and Scott's uncanny end-running. Although within the ten-yard line on four different occasions, Susquehanna lacked the punch to put the ball over the final marker.

Hamilton

The game between Susquehanna and Hamilton at Clinton, New York, also ended in a tie, 7-7.

The Crusaders outplayed their opponents and had the ball in a scoring position on several occasions but seemed to lack that final drive.

Juniata

Susquehanna put up a gallant fight but fell before Juniata by the score of 13-7, on the Orange and Maroon gridiron. The breaks again played havoc for the Little Crusaders.

The Orange and Maroon displayed splendid defensive power throughout the game, and it was through one deceptive play and a lucky break that the Indians scored their two touchdowns. The Crusaders' line failed to function on the offensive as it did defensively.

Juniata's first score came in the second period. With the ball on the Orange and Maroon thirty-five-yard line, fourth down, seven yards to go, Harley threw a pass over the center of the line which bounced off the hands of three Susquehanna men and into the arms of Andrews, who fell over the final marker.

The Susquehanna score came early in the last quarter. Moser recovered a fumble in mid-field and with the aid of Scott, carried the ball to the five-yard line where the former plunged through the line for a touchdown. The Crusaders were in scoring position again before the final whistle but could not take advantage of the opportunity.

The playing of Moser was one of the features of the game. He was the most outstanding on the team. On the defense he intercepted three of the Indians' passes and picked up four of their fumbles. On the offense he never failed to gain when he carried the ball.

Scott entered the game about half-time and gave the Indians another worry. It would be impossible to pick out any outstanding player from the Crusaders' line.

Washington

The Crusaders defeated Washington College on a muddy field by the score of 13-0. The opening play of the game proved to be a real thriller when Washington kick off to the Orange and Maroon's ten-yard line and "Tubby" Moser, getting under the kick, returned it fifty yards up the field. For a minute it looked as if Moser were off for a touchdown.

The Orange and Maroon's first touchdown came in the first quarter, when they took the offense and started a march down the field aided by the line plunging of Moser and several passes, placed the ball in scoring position. Glenn went over the goal-line and Moser drop-kicked the extra point.

The Crusaders had another chance to score in the first period, when Scott ripped of ten-yards around the end and Rishel added five more. Scott then knocked off eight more yards and from then on Moser gained about thirty yards on three line plunges, but the ball was lost on the twelve-yard line.

Susquehanna's final touchdown came in the last period when Scott re-entered the game for Myers and on the first play carried the ball from his own fifteen-yard line to the Washington ten-yard line where he was dragged down from behind. It was beautiful seventy-five-yard run, the longest of the season and it really was a thriller. Moser carried the ball on the next two plays.

Moser and Scott were the big ground-gainers for the Crusaders and ripped off several long runs which proved to be sensational. On the defense, the Crusaders functioned smoothly, considering that this was their first appearance of the year on a muddy field.

P. M. C.

Susquehanna's valiant Crusaders, exhibiting that fighting spirit for which they are noted, went down to a glorious defeat, after completely outplaying the Cadets from P. M. C. in every quarter except the first. As the final whistle blew the score read 24-13. It marked the close of Susquehanna's 1930 grid season and the close of the college football careers of several of her loyal sons who have been luminaries this season.

Led on by Scott and Moser, the Crusaders came back after that disastrous first period to score two touchdowns and come dangerously near P. M. C.'s goal line three more. Moser scored all thirteen points.

Moser and Scott made the game a real battle by their whirlwind offensive. Around the end through the line, with these two playing demons always in the fray. Moser tore large gaps in the opposing line on one play, so that the secondary defense played close, then without delay the diminutive Scott tore around the end for a substantial gain. Throughout the entire game these lads were a source of forcing the ball into scoring position, and it is certain that had the breaks turned out a little differently their playing would have been even more pronounced.

The Crusaders had a splendid opportunity to score a third touchdown in the latter part of the second period but a miscalculation on the part of the quarterback kept them from it. With the ball on the Cadet's three-yard line and two plays to take it across, he called for a pass over the goal line which was incomplete. There was enough time left for the ball to be brought out to the twenty-yard line and Cadets to make five or six plays before half-time.

Plays leaning to the spectacular were afforded the spectators by Brennan and Moser, both of whom intercepted passes and followed up their interception with long broken field runs. Incidentally, both of these plays started marches which finally ended in scores. A few minutes after Brennan speared one of S. U.'s spirals, Thwaite kicked a field goal. Following Moser's interception on his own six-yard line he ran it back to the fifty. From there a steady drive was launched which ended in the Crusaders' second touchdown.

S. U. overshadowed the Cadets in first downs, making twenty-eight to their thirteen. They revealed a fair passing attack, too, completing eleven out of twenty-six attempts, while the military boys tried twelve and completed six. In yards gained by rushing, Susquehanna overwhelmed P. M. C. 328 to 127. Neither side made a fumble, which was very unusual, considering the cold and wind that prevailed throughout.

Susquehanna's forward wall, while penetrated easily in the first period, held like a stone wall during the remainder of the game. With P. M. C. it was just the opposite, excepting that she held for two quarters, then melted before the savage onslaught of the Crusaders's big guns.

Basketball, 1930

SUSQUEHANNA'S Crusader basketball quintet just completed the most successful year in the history of the school. They won eight games and lost seven. Four of these defeats were by a margin of only one or two points. The Orange and Maroon managed to scalp the Indians twice this past season. This marks the first time in a good many years that a Susquehanna team has come out on the top on Juniata's home floor.

Under the direction of Head Coach William Ullery, the basketball squad worked diligently all season and their efforts were not in vain.

Wall, Wormley, Delay, Rupp and Gerhardt left holes in the 1930 team due to graduation but these gaps were soon filled.

The forward positions were held down by Captain-elect Rummell and Rubis. Rummell played with the Junior Varsity during his Freshman year and for the next two seasons has been a regular on the Varsity. Herb was one of the leading scorers this past season and has been elected captain of the 1931-2 aggregation. His running-mate was "Patsie" Rubis. The latter comes from Beckley College where he played basketball and baseball under Coach Ullery before he came to Susquehanna. Rubis filled the vacancy left by Claire Rupp very efficiently. He played a consistent game all season and proved to be a point-getter.

The pivot post was very capably held down by Charley Palmer. "Swede" has played Varsity center for the past three years. He was a tower of strength on the defense for the Little Crusaders. His name did not appear very high in the scoring column as he played defensively the entire game. "Swede" is tall and he sure could break up passes or attempts for field goals. Bigger things, if possible, are expected from this blond-headed fellow for the 1931-2 season.

At the guard positions were found McGeehan and Gleen. This is Mac's second year as a Varsity guard and he sure did play a sweet game all season. He was rather handicapped inasmuch as he was always sent in to guard the opposing forward that had the reputation of being the point-getter of his team. Even at that, Mac had fewer points scored against him all season than any other member of the squad. Opposite McGeehan was Glenn. "Skipper" has played on the Varsity for three years and he has been Captain of our basketball combination for the past two seasons. He was high scorer of the team during this last campaign.

In giving certain individuals credit for the fine season that has just gone in the books as history, one cannot overlook Randolph Harvey, manager of the 1930-1 team. Randy is quite a basketball player himself taking active part in the Interclass and Fraternity Basketball League. It was through his effort that games were scheduled, trips arranged, and other things of importance taken care of. Glenroy Bishop, assistant manager under Harvey has been elected as Manager of the 1931-2 basketball team.

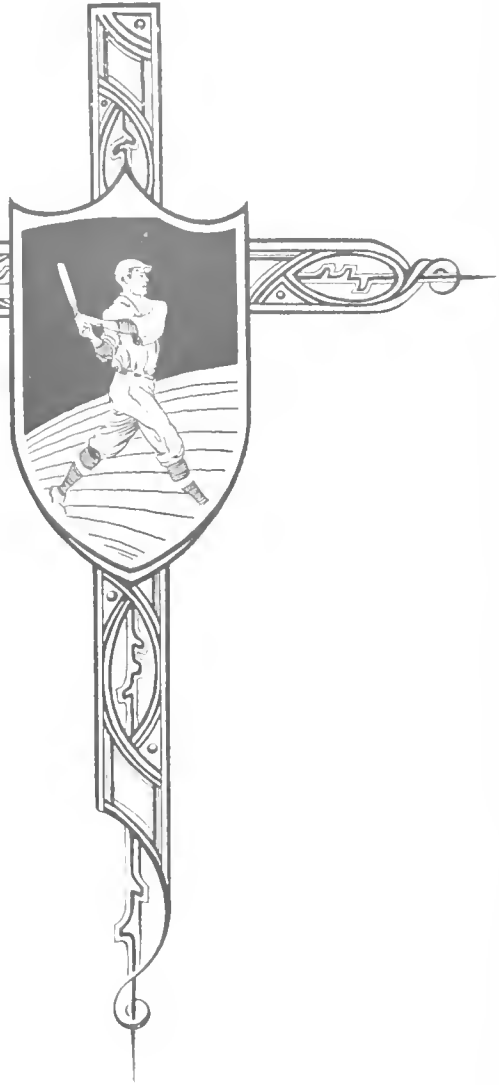

Letters were awarded to the following: Manager Randolph Harvey, Captain Glenn, Palmer, McGeehan, Rubis, Rummell, Fisher and Kozak. Numerals: Worthington, Kapic and Brininger.

BASEBALL, a sport that seems to be a passing game at other institutions of higher learning, is one of Susquehanna's major sports.

Last year the baseball team experienced a rather successful season winning five games and dropping seven. In the infield Captain Good at second, Ramik at first, "Swede" Palmer at shortstop, and Spigelmeyer at third comprised the best short field combination during the 1930 season. Ramik batted clean-up and had the best batting average of any man on the squad, Good had the most assists, and Palmer had the fewest errors. The best performance in the outfield was turned in by Stroup and Snyder.

The brunt of the pitching staff was held up by "Lefty" Danks. Danks was the best all around twirler to ever wear the Orange and Maroon. His efforts were rewarded by electing him Captain for the 1931 season. Due to the fact that he entered Law School in February and did not return to Susquehanna, Donnell was appointed Captain by the Athletic Board for this year.

The backstop position was very capably filled by Shaeffer. His first year he was on the second team and last year he moved up to the Varsity and proved his worth in fine style.

The following received letters: Captain Good, Manager Crossman, Danks, Stroup, Ramik, Shaeffer, Snyder, Spigelmeyer, Herman, Malasky and Donnell. Numerals: Foltz, Brininger, Naugle and Traxler.

ON APRIL 26th at Philadelphia, the Susquehanna University Relay Team inaugurated the current season. Captain Weliky, Johnston, Neiswenter, and Knouse represented the Little Crusaders at this event and placed seventh in a field of extremely fast competition.

The first dual meet of the season was held at Newark, Delaware, with the University of Delaware as hosts. This meet was close throughout and was not decided until the last event.

The highlight of the 1930 season was the C. P. C. T. C. held at Gettysburg, Pa. Susquehanna's cinder-artists entered the meet at the dark-horse and when the event terminated, were tied with Drexel for the Class B Championship.

Another feature in the Little Crusaders outstanding year was the 70-56 triumph over Bucknell. This proved to be a very close and fascinating meet and again was not decided until the last two events were run.

In the final dual meet of the season, Juniata defeated Susquehanna at Huntingdon, 64-62 on a wet and soft track.

Several records were shattered last year and it's no more than proper that we make mention of it now. In the discus, Joe Winters broke the standing record with a heave of 116 feet. Miller Gerhardt shattered the high-jump record, soaring over 5 feet 10 inches.

Credit is also due Manager John Rhine and Captain William Weliky. The latter was the most consistent point getter and through his efforts several meets were won.

The following men received the Varsity "S" in track: Captain Weliky, Manager Rhine, Carolan, Gerhardt, Glenn, Hartline, Johnston, Knouse, Meyers, Neiswenter, Reynolds, Shaffer, Swarm and Winters. Numerals: Coldren, Heim, Heppner, Knepp, Malasky and Rupp.

This is Susquehanna's youngest sport and from the above record, seem to be making out with a great deal of success.

Junior Prom

THE Junior Prom has since 1926 been included in the year's social calendar and has usually climaxed the May Day festivities. This year, however, the Junior Prom was held the evening of the C. P. C. T. C. Meet since the program for May Day is taking place in the evening. The general arrangements for the Prom are in the hands of a committee appointed by the President of the Junior Class. It is composed of the following members: Robert Hartmann, Chairman; Enza Wilson, Harriet Leese, Anna Dunkelberger, Forest Metzger, Lee Fairchild and Jared Mayes.

WOMEN'S Co-operative Council was established on this campus, October 25, 1925. Miss Barbara De Reemer was first president and instigator in bringing this organization, which has proven a great step forward, toward bettering the living conditions in Seibert Hall and furthering the advancement of welfare of the college in general.

Miss Naome K. Hade, Dean of Women, who came to Susquehanna during the second year of co-operative government, has done much to perfect this system of government. It is hoped, however, by contact with similar and more mature governments in other colleges and universities, our local government will continue to improve, not only for its own cause but for the general standing of the college itself.

THIS council consists of ten men, two representatives from each fraternity and two members from the non-fraternity group.

Its purpose is to help the student interests and to serve the general standing of the college itself. Thus the matters with which it deals are quite varied arising from the various phases of college life and its relation to the individual student.

One of the outstanding achievements during the past year was the presentation of a beautiful leather bound Bible to the college for use in its chapel services.

THIS body was first organized in 1927-28 in order to create and maintain a more friendly relationship among the fraternities by a fair and honest consideration of the many problems which confront fraternity men as a group.

The membership is made up of eight men, two representatives from each fraternity.

Certain regulations regarding rushing and bidding are taken care of by this organization. The installation of a preferential bidding system was one of their first and most noteworthy achievements.

THIS group is similar to the Inter-Fraternity Council in aim and in composition. The Intersorority Council has been in existence for many years and through it a more congenial relationship is maintained among the sororities.

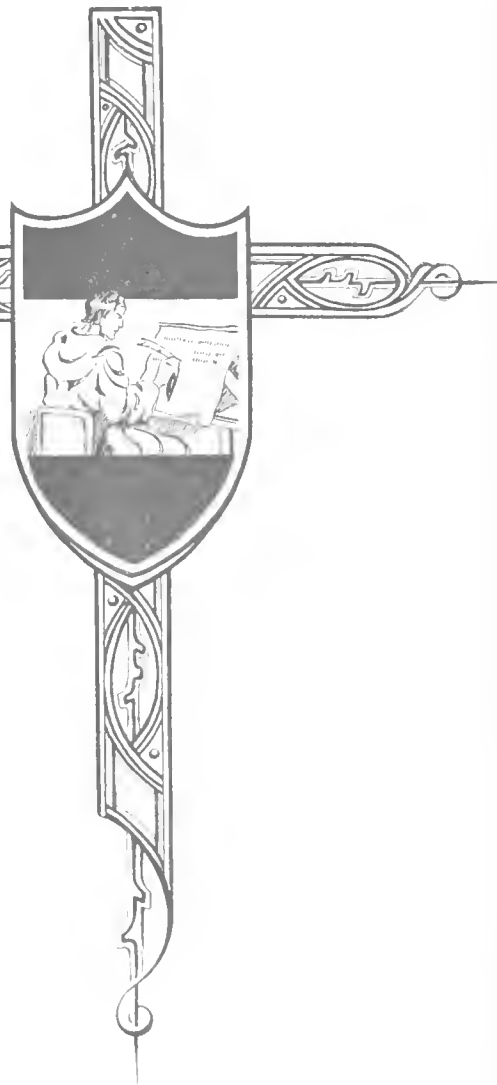

Nine women, three representing each sorority, make up this membership. The presidents and vice-presidents of the sororities automatically become members and the other representatives are chosen by election, by the individual group.

Through the efforts of this organization practically all sorority affairs have been of intersorority origin, thus increasing the spirit of co-operation.

THE Y. M. C. A. is a union of students which has for its purpose the development of a well-balanced life through Christ. The "Y" sponsors many activities, always putting Christ in the center. Some of these activities are: Vesper services every Sabbath evening in co-operation with the Y. W. C. A., mid-week prayer meeting services, Sabbath evening Bible discussion groups, Sunday school class, deputation teams, socials, plays, entertainments, and the bringing of special speakers to the campus.

During Freshman Week the members of the cabinet return to school before the Freshmen to prepare a reception for them and during Freshman Week they help to make them acquainted with the ways of college life.

THE Pre-Theological Club is an organization which brings together those students who are looking forward to the gospel ministry. The aim of the club is to foster the spiritual life on the campus.

The club holds monthly meetings at which time topics of interest to ministerial students are discussed. Faculty members and ministers are frequently invited to speak to this group which is open to all those anticipating the ministry.

THE Science Club was organized in 1920 through the efforts of Dr. H. A. Surface and Dr. George E. Fisher. The purpose of the club is to further popular interest in scientific investigation and help especially those students engaged in study in the field of science to a clear understanding and a more intimate acquaintance in this field of thought.

Since the printing of the above paragraph, membership to the club is extended on an honor basis. In order to be eligible a student must have at least twelve hours credit in sciences and a "B" average in these respective courses. Henceforth this club shall be known as the Honor Science Club.

IN THE fall of 1929 a group of French students, interested in securing a better knowledge of the French language, met and a club was organized. Since then "Le Cercle Francais" has grown steadily and has done much to promote an interest in this language. By means of interesting plays, songs, games and social functions, those who desire to do so may increase their understanding by speaking and hearing the language.

THE Spanish Club is one of the newer organizations of the campus but has been fast growing in popularity among the Spanish students. It was organized on November 7, 1929, under the supervision of Miss Lucy T. Irving. At that time H. Rummel was elected president of the club; L. Fairchild, vice-president; Miss L. Baird, secretary; C. Yon, treasurer.

Since then besides its business meetings the club has enjoyed many social programs which have included plays, games, music and likes.

Varsity "S" Club

THE membership of the Varsity "S" Club is composed of those who have won their letter in any Varsity sport.

For several years the Varsity "S" Club was one of the outstanding organizations of the campus. During 1924 and 1925 this organization was exceedingly active and it was at this time that the beautiful gates at the entrance to the athletic field were made possible through the efforts of this club. The structure stands as a monument to the labors of this body of athletes.

The chief purpose of the club is to keep the letter men together and to show deference and hospitality to visiting teams.

Π Γ Μ is the National Social Science Honor Society, founded December 1, 1924, having for its object, "to encourage and reward the undergraduate study of social science." The term "social science" is used in the broadest sense possible.

This society consists of forty-five chapters organized in colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of Susquehanna University was organized May 9, 1927; and it was formally installed June 6, 1927.

Membership in the society is attained through election by the Faculty members of the Chapter. About ten members of the Junior Class are elected annually, at the close of the Junior year. The members practically elect themselves; they must manifest special interest in social science, carry at least twenty hours in social science studies, be of good character, and have a satisfactory general scholastic standing.

THE Susquehanna Chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha, National Forensic Fraternity, was organized January 18, 1930. The petition for membership was presented by teams of 1928-29.

Tau Kappa Alpha at present has over 100 chapters throughout different colleges and universities in the United States. It was organized at the University of Indiana in 1908. Those who are interested in debating work indeed have a fine goal for which to strive.
